Overview

The Everett Police Department (EPD) authorizes the use of two types of Flock Safety cameras for law enforcement and community safety purposes. These devices gather and analyze the data to enable the rapid identification and location of vehicles and persons of legitimate interest to law enforcement. The Everett Police Department is committed to utilizing Flock Safety cameras to enhance community safety, deter and solve crimes, maintain public trust, and support the overall mission of the department. The Everett Police Department employs the use of two types of Flock Safety cameras, the Flock Safety Falcon, a license plate reader (LPR), and the Flock Safety Condor, a fixed-point pan-tilt-zoom (PTZ) camera.

Policies

What's Detected

What the Cameras Do Not Do

External Law Enforcement Access

Any Law Enforcement agency that asks to access data from Everett PD's Flock program must abide by Everett PD's policies on usage. All agencies are required to sign documentation that they acknowledged to abide by this agreement.

Hotlist Policy

To the extent possible, vehicle and subject information associated with LPR hits will be verified through separate law enforcement information sources to confirm the information is accurate, up to date, and supports any related contact with the public. Users of LPR data must, to the extent possible, visually confirm that the plate characters generated by the LPR readers correspond with the digital image of the license plate in question and query the plate through WACIC/NCIC to ensure the LPR user is relying on accurate information.
